BENJAMIN'S

Ways to Get More Money This Year

1.) Your Opinion Matters

If you're always telling friends what's hot (or not) you can get paid for that. If you join a focus group, they'll send you a new product, like nail polish or snack mix and ask you a bunch of questions about it. You can make around $50-$300 for 3-8 hours of your time. You can find out more at findfocusgroups.com

2.) Sell Your Skills

Promote your skills at fiverr.com, where you can charge $5 to $500 for a multitude of talents, including designing jewelry or creating company social media pages. The site e-mails you when someone wants your product.

3.) Be a Tutor

Good in a particular subject or overall whiz? You can tutor kids in school subjects and test prep over e-mail or Skype. You can earn approximately $18-$48 a sessions. At wyzant.com, the more hours you log tutoring, the more you'll earn.

4.) Save with Your Student ID

That card is just more than showing it off at school. Take it to retailers like Charlotte Russe, Urban Outfitters and J. Crew and you can receive up to a 10% discount. And who knows, other stores may do it too, so it doesn't hurt to ask around.

5.) Take Surveys on Your Receipts

You know those surveys at the bottom of your receipt? If you fill them out, you can receive discounts, be entered into a drawing or get free items the next time you do your shopping. It all just takes a small amount of time for some good rewards.

6.) Sell Some Stuff

Have some old clothes or toys you don't use anymore? Sell them on sites like Ebay or Facebook Marketplace and you can make some quick cash for things that are just taking up space.

Quarterly Quote:

"I love money. I love everything about it. I bought some pretty good stuff. Got me a $300 pair of socks. Got a fur sink. An electric dog polisher. A gasoline powered turtleneck sweater. And, of course, I bought some dumb stuff, too." - Steve Martin
